“Feng Shui has been recognized as a planning tool even at large scale projects in the East for a long time but now also in Europe and the US. Large corporations are using Feng Shui as a means to improve their workplace and to strengthen their competitiveness. Therefore, Feng Shui consultations are now regarded as “standard” business services and are expected to adjust to the business environment in terms of professional presentation and fee calculation.

The professional Feng Shui consultant requires today a tool to produce high end presentations and reports as well as reliable results in a very short timeframe.”

fengshuiPC is the outstanding Feng Shui software to prove your competence as a consultant. Building upon the calculation engine of Microsoft Excel the program is user friendly and fits seamlessly into the office family. It offers three overwhelming advantages:

- reliable results within minutes after entry of data;
- professional presentation of the results – especially effective by using scanned floor plans from the client;
- deeper analysis through faster review of alternatives as well as through a simultaneous view of all influencing factors on one floor plan. It uncovers connections which would have been lost without use of the program.

3 built-in languages (English, German, French)

The software offers many different tools to the Feng Shui consultant. After importing scanned floor plans the program calculates the center of gravity and places the plan on selected sheets for analysis and presentation. There the consultant finds all information about Bazhai, Flying Stars and the Bagua right on the plan, either displayed in pie chart or rectangular shape. Even the dangers of the year – grand Duke, 3 Shares and the Yellow 5 are displayed exact to the degree and for the next 10 years.

All information is dynamic and adjusts instantly to any changes. Using a step-by-step guidance, even the inexperienced user can produce astonishing analysis directly on the plan. Any step can immediately see and adjusted.

The Feng Shui font adds great value, as it can be used with any program offering Chinese characters, trigram symbols, animals and much more.

Excel users can even access any text in the program and adjust to their individual liking or translate.

The user is supported by a 75-page user guide with 150 pictures. FengshuiPC offers also 2-day introductory courses in Germany, Switzerland and Austria.

fengshuiPC offers:

Input of house and personal data:
The visual display of facing and door direction allows the user to immediately control the input of the house directions.
In addition to the facing and door directions a third directional input allows rotating the compass. It offers the opportunity to match the display to the true direction of the scanned plan. Any alternative calculation for sitting and facing can be calculated and shown within minutes.
The example shows a situation where the plan direction is 180° - South direction is on top. The Bazhai calculator shows a "Li" house. The same result is calculated if the program shows North on the top.

The standard sheet for plans consists of 9 concentric rings which contain different, user definable information. Menus on the side of the sheet allow the selection of several options and thereby customizing the appearance of the rings. In the example the rings display:
- Bazhai house energy level
- Trigrams of the later heaven
- Sitting and facing directions
- Dangers of the year with grand duke,
  yearly star 5 (yellow 5) and 3 killings.
You may also add on top of the automatically centered floor plan a rectangular grid, which in this case displays the information of the 3-door Bagua. A multitude of menus allow the user to adjust the content of the display interactively until an ideal combination of information is found to inform the client. The guideline "Less is More" serves well in this stage of preparation.
A legend at the bottom of the page displays the current status of all information.
A breakdown into small steps helps to easily learn the import of scanned plans. Corrections are possible at all times. Even the center of sharp or rounded buildings can be calculated without difficulties.

The transfer of the plan onto sheets for analysis is accomplished automatically. For the placement of the floor plan the Feng Shui program offers a popup menu which shows all available plan sheets and also marks the ones which have already received plans before.

In addition to pie charts the user may choose to use rectangular charts for floor plan analysis. In this case a 3-door Bagua display is adjusted to show the career sector in the West. Also available in the grid shape are information about Flying Stars, Bazhai and the 8 trigrams of the later heaven.

A wide variety of graphic objects are available to enhance the information on floor plans. Cures, interiors, even persons with their elements can be placed onto the plan with the help of an easy to use menu. It offers:

- Cures (2x)
- 8 life situations
- Interiors
- Environmental features
- Earth energies
- People
- Grid patterns.
A large sheet (A3 or 11/17) has been introduced to offer more space for a very exacting Feng Shui analysis. It is set up for printing on smaller printers with overlapping areas to be taped together. The information is located in concentric rings and each setting is individually adjustable. The sheet allows seeing together at one glance:

Flying Stars
Bazahi for the house
Bazahi 6 people individually
Early and late heaven
Animal constellation
Sunlight distribution
Compass
Dangers of the year with Grand Duke
conflict star
3 killings
Yellow 5

A very accurate assessment of the Flying Stars offers an additional sheet:
Using the principle of host and guest the table compares element relationship, timeliness and quality of water, mountain, period and yearly stars. It helps to recognize quickly but with much depth, whether this trigram is best used as an active Yang) or passive (Yin) space. In addition, the sheet offers information about Castle Gates, usage period, Fan/ Fu Yin structures and special combinations.

See the original and the replacement Flying Star chart side by side.

An automatic table of content on the title sheet and sheets for comments and pictures add to the overall easy to use of the Feng Shui consultation package.
